ly reclaim them to the sea. At the Marconi Station in this same area of the National Seashore 170 feet of the cliff has disappeared since 1905, and almost all of the original site has vanished since then. These great storms which lash the sand cliffs and wear them away have thrown up many ships. The Coast Guard station on page 2 overlooks this spectacular coast and has been the scene of some daring rescue attempts in the early days with open surf boats rowed out into the sea. The road immediately below the station is disappearing and right now great chunks of asphalt end in the beach sand which is second to none for fine grain. This National Seashore area is a part of the Cape that will be preserved for the future, unspoiled by development to show the Cape in all of its wild natural beauty.

Selectmen's Meeting

LICENSE GRANTED

Mattapoisett Selectmen granted a liquor license to Manuel E. Souza, Jr. of 99 Bedford Street, New Bedford who appeared together with Jay Sylvia as spokesman for the operation of a night club to be called Rumples (former Road House on Route 6, Mattapoisett). Mr. Souza told Selectmen that he plans to purchase the property and install insulation both to deaden the sound and for economy reasons to save

He plans musical entertainment Tuesday through Sunday ranging from country western, jazz and soft rock to appeal to a varied patronage. A modified dress code will be instituted and he will have parking supervised, he said.

to appeal to that type of clientele. He will charge a cover of between $2. and $4.50.

Objections to the proposal were made by next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rusinoski. Mr. Rusinoski stated that no matter who opens that place the end is the same - the noise, the drugs, the fights and the litter continue as it has for 30 years. Mr. Rusinoski said that all the operators start with the best of intentions but when business starts to wane they will do anything to keep alive. He suggested the Selectmen send for the recent police reports and review them with Mr. Souza. Frank Linhares objected to the license. He told Souza that the fence between his property and the Road House had been destroyed several times by drunken customers who took down the fence, then rammed into the wall of his building. He said that he has put up with this destruction and bottles by the thousands which ring the entire property but he does not intend to do so anymore. He said that the Road House property never had a workable septic system because the operator before the last one had promised to install one and never got around to it. Consequently, he said, the sewage had to be pumped out almost daily. Mr. Linhares said that he does not want his property used as a parking area, wants the dividing fence repaired and wants the litter removed.

that he was most impressed with his plans to purchase the Road House property. "I'm a firm believer in free enterprise", he said. He said the property is there and should be used but not in a way that disturbs the neighbors. He suggested that should such disturbance arise no matter the hour of night that the disturbed neighbors should call him and that he would respond in person. Chairman William Hubbard reviewed the long history of police trouble at the club. He said that the Board of Selectmen has had enough and would revoke the license at once should trouble start again. He said that the town does not intend to tie up police cruisers constantly there. He said the stipulations will be strict and will be followed regarding noise, parking and business hours. Souza promised to adhere to all stipulations. He said that he is about to invest $100,000 and cannot afford to have one $4.50 customer jeopardizing that investment.

SEWER EXTENSION

Frank Sylvia was granted permission by Selectmen to extend the sewer from the existing manhole on Route 6, 150 feet up Route 6 to Upland Way and then 50 feet north to terminate in a manhole in Upland Way. Mr. Sylvia explained that the state would not allow a future disturbance of the new surface of Route 6 once the resurfacing has been accomplished. The Selectmen approved the work to be done in accordance with town specifications at Mr. Sylvia's expense.

WOMAN'S CLUB BOWLING LEAGUE BANQUET

Anna J. Bradley and Joan Jason were presented gifts April 27 in recognition of their 23 years as members of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club Bowling League. They are the only two presently bowling who started with the League in 1957. In the first year, Anna received the Most Improved Bowler Award.

At this year's banquet, held at the Skipper, Ruth Jenney received the Most Improved Bowler Award, advancing from 105.6 to 112.4. Marilyn Randall received the High Average Award for her 119.6; Pal O'Leary took the High Triple Award, 424; and Bert Kelley for Single High Game, 163.

The winning team, the Robins, included Shirley Cronan, Joanne Demski, Jackie McCarter and Ruth Jenney. Second place team included Ruth Cunningham, Mary Betts, Louise Kelsey and Mildred Vogel. High Team Triple went to the Orioles, 1320; and High Team Single, Chickadees, 496.

Perfect Attendance awards went to Peg Palmquist, Pal O'Leary, Joan Jason and Mildred Jason.

Peg Palmquist read her state Woman's Club prize-winning poem, "Ah, Choo!". The League will renew its play in September with Zeta Caine, chairman; Dorothy Horne, treasurer; and Anna Bradley, in charge of obtaining substitutes.

TO PARENTS:

Where were you on April 29th???

It was a sad night on April 29th. Statistics were given out concerning the David Toma program and its effects on the drug problem in our three towns. The statistics show our children find it to be a significant problem in their lives. Why weren't you there to hear the outcome of the survey that was given to YOUR child.

Did you know that 61% of our junior high school students feel that we have a definite drug and alcohol problem? Did you know that 37% feel strongly enough to help with peer counseling - (which takes a lot of courage to do)?

Where were you on April 29th?

ing the first stages of planning the David Toma program was, "I don't have a problem with my child, so WHY bother?" It IS our problem, these young adults ARE our future. They are crying out for help and it is falling on deaf ears!

The afternoon of the David Toma program, there were 200 students or more lined up to talk to him. That evening after Mr. Toma's speech there were more kids who came back to talk to him because in their own words, "I've just got to talk to him---"

Where were you on April 29th?

Our school system is doing an extremely fine job in continuing the drug follow-up, but they can't do it all. Most of the problems with drugs and alcohol are before and after school hours. They need our support as much as we need theirs. Here is our chance as parents to do something, DON'T let the door shut in their faces. Support the follow-up programs, let's show ALL the kids we care.

The school tells us we CAN turn things around and they are working with full determination to combat the problems. Isn't it time we stood up and joined their fight. We are talking about our kids!!

These representatives were chosen by the faculty at Old Rochester on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, service to the school and citizenship.

At the convention, the representatives will establish and operate State Government in miniature at Bridgewater. This includes forming two political parties, holding conventions, nominating candidates, conducting campaigns and elections. When they return to their own communities, the representatives will have a better understanding of the functioning of State Government.

Mother's Day March

A group of local women and men are going to Washington on Mother's Day, May 10, and Monday, May 11, to voice their concern about the nuclear arms race, as part of a demonstration calling on the government for a freeze on nuclear weapons.

They will be bringing signed petitions from their Congressional Districts demanding that "the US and the USSR should immediately and jointly stop the nuclear arms race". The petition further calls for an immediate mutual freeze on all further testing, production and deployment of nuclear weapons and of new aircraft designed primarily to deliver nuclear weapons. Appointments have been made to meet with Congressional representatives on Monday, May 11.

The Mother's Day March is sponsored by the Women's Party for Survival, with headquarters at 56 North Beacon Street, Watertown, Mass. The group has been working to spread the realization that there is no survival possible in a nuclear war, and there is no effective civil defense. Information about the March may be obtained by calling 923-9542.

Heritage Plantation

"ACROSS THE WIDE MISSOURI:
THE AMERICAN WEST IN ART"

The major special exhibition of the 1981 season at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich - opening to the public May 9 to October 18 - will be "Across the Wide Missouri: The American West in Art". This show of western art includes more than 100 paintings, lithographs, drawings and sculpture, all depicting the fascination of past and present artists with the imagery, romance and diversity of the American West.

Long before Horace Greeley urged enterprising and adventurous young men to go West and grow up with the country, the mystique of the American frontier was working its spell. Early in the 19th century the vast area beyond the Missouri River had begun to captivate the minds of the few who explored it and the many who knew it only through the pen of authors and the brush of artists.

The Heritage Plantation exhibit includes the works of explorer artists, correspondents on horseback who sketched Indians, soldiers, and pioneers for HARPER'S and LESLIE'S, landscapists, portraitists and sculptors. The 69 artists range from Charles de Saint Memin, who in 1804 painted the earliest known portrait of American Indians - a group of Osage Chiefs visiting President Jefferson, to the young contemporary painters of today.

On display are paintings by Charles M. Russell, Albert Bierstadt, Thomas Moran, Ralph A. Blakelock, Robert Henri, Frank Tenney Johnson and N.C. Wyeth; bronzes by Frederic Remington, Cyrus Dallin and Harry Jackson, and prints of works by John James Audubon, George Catlin, Karl

"Across the Wide Missouri" strives to provide aesthetic pleasure for its viewers and a panorama of varied artistic interpretations of the opening and development of the West.

Heritage Plantation of Sandwich is a museum of Americana on 76 acres of spectacular gardens and trails featuring thousands of famous Dexter rhododendrons. The Shaker Round Barn displays 34 beautifully restored antique and classic cars and a special exhibit, "Firemen and Folk Art". In the military museum are antique firearms, flags tracing America's history, military miniatures and a "Leaders in Indiana Archaeology" show. The Arts & Crafts Building presents folk art collections, an operating merry-go-round and the 1981 premier exhibit, "Across the Wide Missouri". There is also a windmill and a picnic area. It is open daily 10 to 5 May 9 to October 18. Three miles from the Cape Cod Sagamore Bridge, take Route 130 off Route 6A to Pine and Grove Streets, Sandwich.

In order to join the program a participant must commit nine full working days, May 26 - June 5, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. to attending the Job Factory Seminar at BCC. During these nine days, getting a job becomes a full-time job for all participants. During that time they will set goals, write a resume, participate in mock interviews. Based upon past experience, many of these people will also find jobs.

Dr. Barbara Dubin and Kathleen Geiger, BCC Counselors, will be program facilitators. Last year both women received Job Factory training at BCC as part of a grant from the Fund for Improvement of Post-Secondary Education. Persons interested in participating in "Job Factory" must have an interview with one of the facilitators before being enrolled in the nine-day program. losing weight and cutting down on salt should play in your treatment.

A good diet makes everyone feel better and look better. It's not always easy to change the way you eat -- but you can do it. Here are some hints from the Cape and Islands Heart Association to help make eating for high blood pressure control a habit for life. Discuss them with your doctor before trying them on your own.

Changing your eating habits is the best way to get and keep weight off. Crash programs, or fad diets featuring a limited variety of foods, may take off pounds in the short run. Over time, however, only a balanced diet and good eating habits will keep weight down. To be effective your new eating patterns should be followed for life just like all high blood pressure treatment.

Salt is a chemical compound, made up of 40 percent sodium and 60 percent chloride. Although the body must have sodium, most Americans eat much more of it than they need. Sodium in salt seems to contribute to higher blood pressures in some people. Some people with high blood pressure can help control it by reducing the amount of sodium they eat. Like losing weight, cutting the use of salt and other products that contain sodium can help these patients reduce the amount of medication they need. By limiting sodium intake, some patients can lower blood pressure without taking medication.

Salt is our number one source of sodium. Eliminating table salt as a seasoning is a good first step in cutting your sodium intake. But sodium is found in other things we eat too, often in places we wouldn't expect it to be. For example, prepared or pre-packaged foods are a major source. Sodium is used in prepared foods as a preservative, as a "flavor enhancer" and as a substitute for higher priced ingredients. It is included in almost every kind of processed food: baked goods, lunch meats, canned and frozen foods, cereals, candy, cheese, condiments, and ice cream. Americans eat almost half their meals away from home. Restaurant food, especially fast food, is often high in sodium. Many medications, particularly antacids, cough medicine, and laxatives are also high in sodium.

What can you do to help reduce the amount of sodium you eat? Use more fresh fruits, vegetables and meats, and don't add salt in cooking or baking. A taste for salt is acquired. The less you use the less you'll want. Read labels on all processed foods to check for sodium. The word sodium will appear in many different forms (e.g. mono sodium glutamate, sodium benzoate, disodium phosphate, etc.). They all mean sodium was used in preparing the product.

Try seasoning with lemon juice, fresh and dried herbs, and spices like curry powder, celery seed, pepper, and paprika. Ask restaurants not to add any salt to your order. Avoid salty snacks like pretzels, potato chips, and corn chips. Eat more low calorie foods. With few exceptions, people who watch their weight find their sodium intake goes down at the same time. Cranberry World

CRANBERRY WORLD SPRING FLOWER SHOW

Cranberry World's Spring Flower Show opened May 1 with an unusual twist. According to the museum's curator and manager, Anita Franks, the featured flowers are not live spring blooms, but rather are contemporary watercolor, acrylic, and oil paintings. The art exhibit runs through May 31 in the Cranberry Gallery of the free-admission Cranberry World Visitors Center, and is augmented by colorful floral arrangements created by Plymouth-area florists.

"The show's offerings are diverse, with twenty-two works on exhibit, most of them by Massachusetts artists," notes Ms. Franks. "Subject treatments range from Tim Hammill's giant-sized close-up study of a single bloom, "Iris XI" (c 1980), to a grouping of many flowers in Celia Sommerwell's work entitled "Field Flowers".

Also displayed are a large, textured rice paper collage and acrylic by Mary Ross entitled "Floral XV" and a watercolor by renowned Taiwanese artist Chang Chieh, aptly called "Spring". Mr. Chieh, considered one of the ten leading contemporary Chinese artists, is known for meshing traditional Chinese brush painting with Western art techniques.

In addition to the Cranberry Gallery that hosts monthly art shows, Cranberry World Visitors Center also houses permanent collection areas devoted exclusively to exhibits about cranberry cultivation and history. Cranberry World added three new educational exhibits this year -- a working model of a cranberry bounce separator, a cross-section of a cranberry enlarged to show its internal structure, and a backlit, fiber-optics display that graphically illustrates the route of the red berries from harvest to grocery shelf.

Cranberry World is a short ten-minute walk from Plymouth Rock and The Mayflower II. It is open daily April 1 - November 30 from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. - no admission fee.

Celtic Music

"Na Cabarfeidh in Concert" will be sponsored by the Harvard Celtic Department and the Southeastern Massachusetts University Eisteddfod on May 8 at 8 p.m. at Harvard's Paine Hall.

Na Cabarfeidh is the name chosen by five musicians from Toronto, Canada, who specialize in what they call "a new Celtic music". Inspired by the traditions of Scotland, Ireland and Brittany, the band adds contemporary rhythmic and melodic arrangements to these ancient musics.

Four of the band's members, Patrick O'Gorman, Ian Goodfellow, Grier Coppins, and Trevor Ferrier, have been involved in Scottish piping and pipebands for over ten years, culminating in their membership in the City of Toronto Cabarfeidh Pipeband. This band was recognized as one of the most innovative of its time, and was the

Money Cost Still High

DIRECT DEPOSIT & IRA ENCOURAGED

Richard H. Carpenter, President of Fairhaven Savings Bank, reviewed the cost of short-term Treasury obligations over the past year
— indicating that the average level of interest rates continues to rise and no predictable downturn can be seen for the next several months. Carpenter spoke at the quarterly meeting of the bank's Board of Trustees, April 13.

"The cost of money," said Carpenter,

"only raises the price level on overall interest rates making it more and more difficult on the borrower, particularly the mortgage borrower. These conditions are evident in the continual downturn in the

BUSINESS WATER CONSERVATION

Environmental Affairs Secretary John A. Bewick has called on Massachusetts businesses to begin water conservation efforts now in order to avoid summer shortages.

Over half of the community-supplied water in New England is used for commercial, industrial and institutional purposes, according to Bewick.

Bewick has established a Drought Resources Information Program (DRIP) to channel water conservation tips to local residents.

system that recycles the water for the same purpose can achieve large water savings. Also, after the water is used for cooling, heat can be recovered from it to reduce the company's energy bills.

* Waste water from machinery can be re-used for other processes that do not require purified water. Such recycling systems within a business can greatly reduce excess water usage.

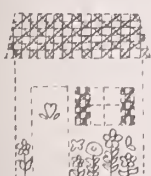

* Water sprays or jets or mechanical agitators can also increase the efficiency of water usage.

* Many businesses are undertaking the thrifty practice of conducting water audits that show how excess water usage and its accompanying high cost can be reduced.

Sailaway Restaurant of Mattapoisett. The league will again be modeled after the Fairhaven Teachers' Tennis League with twelve two man teams who will play singles matches (A vs A and B vs B) and a doubles match between the two teams. League standings will be for "A Division Singles", "B Division Singles" and "Doubles".

The Sailaway Restaurant will host the banquet and will donate trophies and plaques for the league. An entry fee will help to defray the cost of the banquet and awards. Hopefully, the league will be as successful as last season's.

The league will be limited to 24 players on a first come first serve basis although preference will be given to last year's members first. Applications, which can be ob-
